ed without a formal spokesman during the discussion. Mr. Kline based his pleadings on economic grounds and one of the officials said tonight, "held his own" in the question from his angle of the case.

Once or twice the discussion became lively but it never ranged beyond cool headed argument. The railroad officials in their turn took the position already publicly announced by Mr. Kruttschnitt.

At the end of the conference Mr. Kruttschnitt issued the following statement.

Vice President's Statement.
 "A conference was held between the national officers of the shop employees and Southern Pacific officials. (Here he enumerated those present and continued.)

"In the conference the question of the benefits to accrue to both the company and the men from a federation were fully presented by the international officers and the officers of the railroad company explained at length the embarrassment that the company would experience in performing its public functions if hampered by a committee vested with sufficient power to control or partially control its operations.

"The discussion lasted from 11 a. m. until nearly 5:30 p. m., without altering the situation."

Some seeming ambiguity in the final phrase "without altering the situation" was cleared up tonight by a railroad official who said authoritatively it was intended to mean that there was no change from Mr. Kruttschnitt's previous position.

"We have not refused to see the men further, however," said this official. "But our position is fixed."

Union leaders have made no secret of their anxiety to avert a strike and means to that end were canvassed freely in their meeting tonight.

WEN AT ONCE FILE NOTICE
ASKING FOR NEW CONTRACTS
 Chicago, September 1.—Representatives of the international unions committee, composing the federated shop employees of the Illinois Central, which has been refused recognition by President Markham, of that railroad, today gave thirty days' formal notice to the railroad that they desire alterations in their contracts.

This move followed the communication of President Markham to the union representatives in which he refused to recognize any organization except those with which the railroad has contracts and called attention to the clause requiring a thirty days' notice to abrogate the contracts.

Another Conference Sought.
 The union representatives also forwarded a communication to the railroad asking for another conference with President Markham on Tuesday. He received the communication late in the day and will wait until tomorrow to answer. He refused to say what his answer should be. The union leaders are confident he will receive them, and while awaiting the expiration of the thirty-day period to change the existing contracts, they intend to continue their efforts to gain recognition for the federation.

The notices sent to the railroad by the union officials are not cancellations of the contracts. They were sent in an effort formally to comply with the letter of the contracts, and union leaders say they will not delay further negotiations during the thirty-day period.

Men Hold Secret Conferences.
 Several secret conferences among the union men were held during the day at which plans for the future were discussed. At the adjournment of the last conference between President Markham and representatives of the international unions involved, several members of the delegation, headed by President Markham, prepared to depart for their homes to spend Labor Day. President Markham, for the federation, and Secretary Bowen will remain here to continue their efforts to secure a conference with the railroad officials.

No official statements from either the railroad company or the unions were issued during the day. The union men asserted matters had not yet progressed far enough to warrant them in making public their side of the controversy and the railroad officials declared they already have said all they were to say. Both sides, however, indicated that a strike is not probable.

All the notices from the union representatives giving thirty days' notice of desired changes in the contracts were not received at the railroad offices tonight. The officials believe the others are in the mail.

CHARTER ERROR
NOW EXPLAINED

 Clerk Boileaulet was in Atlanta yesterday and on being shown last night a copy of the charter and many statements of Mr. Gresham, said:

"Up to the present time I have thought it the part of wisdom not to enter into the public prints in reference to certain bills in the enrollment of last session of the legislature, but now that Mr. Gresham has voluntarily assumed the responsibility, which I have shouldered rather than involve any one else, I do not mind saying now that which I would not otherwise have said."

"The errors which have caused most criticism were made by clerks who have been in my employ from ten to fourteen years. In the thousands of bills handled by them, they have never committed an error. These gentlemen occupy responsible positions, and one of them is a first honor graduate of the University of Georgia. All are men of maturity and high character."

How It Happened.
 "Mr. Gresham, who in a many way admits the error in the Atlanta charter, is the most experienced legislative clerk in Georgia. He was chosen on civil service examination from ten applicants, and received his position for superior efficiency. The sole work given him during the last five years of the session was the enrollment of the Atlanta charter, which made twenty-one (21) printed columns in the Atlanta papers. The engraving and engraving of this bill alone cost me fifty-five ($55.00) dollars. Special statute law, laid upon the necessity of having the Atlanta charter bill properly enrolled and the error specifying '1911' occurred in a section which frequently mentioned 1911, and specified 1911 as the year in which the election was to occur. Therefore '1910' was automatically written '1911'."

"Within the last few days of the legislative session it was necessary for me to have engrossed and enrolled, and to have various amendments properly digested, in more than two hundred (200) bills. Within five days after the adjournment of the legislature it was necessary to have engrossed and enrolled one hundred and thirty-five (135) bills, a number of which were nearly as long as the Atlanta charter bill."

"I much regret that any error has been made in the enrollment of these bills. I noticed where acts in various states, including New York, have frequently involved errors, even though their system of having bills printed with large clerical force, is in vogue."

"Any person may commit a error, and the safeguards that I have taken to prevent the commission of errors are manifest when I state that in fourteen years of services the first material error ever committed by any of my force occurred this year. Then the errors alluded to above were made by the most competent, experienced and educated men in Georgia. No man is beyond possible error and the very best of us are liable sometimes to make mistakes. It has always been so and it will always be so."

GOVERNOR SMITH WILL TAKE ACTION

 and use the commission classification on all credit business handled. It is probable that a day will be set for a hearing before the governor within the next few weeks.

The question involved is an interesting one. The clause in the lease act around which the controversy turns was suggested by former Governor Joseph M. Brown, who at the time the act was adopted was an official of the Western and Atlantic road. It applies solely to freight traffic.

The conditions prevailing now as regard rates have been in force since the present lease took effect.

It is claimed by some that the part of the lease act involved is unconstitutional and will not stand the test of the courts in that it seeks to convert that part of the fundamental law of the nation which denies to the states the right to regulate commerce between states.

If the issue gets into the courts, it will take several years to get a final decision.

CARTER ASSAULTS FOUR SALESMEN

Oklahoma Representative Alleges Clerks Insulted His Daughter.

Washington, September 1.—Representative Charles D. Carter, of Oklahoma, created a sensation in the heart of the smart shopping center here today by assaulting four clerks, one of whom he alleged insulted his 18-year-old daughter, Miss Italy Carter, who was with her father on a shopping expedition.

Having dealt summarily with the four clerks, Representative Carter, who is seven-sixteen Indian, sent his daughter home in an automobile and proceeded to the nearest police station, where he explained the incident which led up to the trouble. He was not detained, and considers the incident closed unless the four clerks demand an investigation.

Representative Carter assaulted the first clerk, Joseph Josephson, with his fists, and when three of the young men's companions came to his aid, he struck them with a cane. The Oklahoma congressman brought his walking stick into play and wielded it vigorously until he was master of the field. According to Mr. Carter, his daughter described to Josephson a certain kind of coat she wished to purchase. He declares the clerk thought Miss Carter was unattended and sought to engage her in conversation.

Continuing his advances, which were followed by repulses, said Mr. Carter, "the young man became insulting. When I politely asked the clerk the cause of the trouble, he became infuriated and said uncomplimentary things about my daughter. I told her to accompany me from the store, and as we reached the door he called me several names. I returned and prepared to strike him, when he started toward me. I then gave him as good a licking as my long experience on the plains as a boxer would permit. I then started to leave, when three of his assistants took up the fight. I was plainly outnumbered, but would not run. I struck right and left with my cane and finally routed the entire bunch."

The fight was brief, but exciting until the clerks were vanquished. Meanwhile, Miss Carter stood in tears on the sidewalk outside the store until her father reached her side and took her from the scene.

VOTE IS ASKED ON CREMATORY

Calling for a vote by the people on the crematory question a resolution was adopted by the board of health yesterday and will be forwarded to council for action there at the next meeting. The bond issue provided for the erection of two crematories with the bond money. There are a good many objections to the erection of two crematories, according to the health board, and the members are of the opinion that the needs of the city will be better served by the erection of one crematory.

The resignation of C. A. Peacock, sanitary inspector, was accepted.

GUNTER MAKES REPORT FAVORING L. & N. ROAD

Montgomery, Ala., September 1.—Special Master W. A. Gunter, appointed by Federal Judge Thomas G. Jones to hear testimony in the Alabama railroad rate case, brought by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company against the state of Alabama, today submitted to the court a report of his findings.

He finds that the Alabama rate statutes, including the 1910 commodities law, reducing freight rates and the law decreasing passenger rates to 24 cents per mile, are violative of the federal constitution upon the three grounds set up by the complaining railroad as follows:

1. That they directly control and interfere with the interstate traffic of the complainant.

2. That they amount to class legislation against the complainant and deny it the equal protection of the laws.

3. That they are confiscatory in that they do not afford any fair return to the complainant on its property devoted to the public as a common carrier.

The proceedings will, in all probability, be taken to the federal supreme court.

In Quest of Derelicts.
 New York, September 1.—The defunct destroyer Senneca, of the United States revenue cutter service, weighed anchor and steamed in the harbor today in quest of derelicts of the 7-day storm ending last night. She left without designation, but will probably patrol the path of the coastwise vessels to southern ports.

One Killed; Four Injured.
 Kingston, N. Y., September 1.—One man was killed and four seriously injured in a head-on collision between the Rip Van Winkle flyer and a passenger train on the Ulster and Delaware railroad at Halcoville last night. Signals set against the flyer failed to work properly and the trains met on a sharp curve. Both locomotives were demolished.

Alliance Will Be Saved.
 New York, September 1.—A wireless dispatch reports that the Panama Railway Alliance, which broke down off Cape Hatteras yesterday en route from New York to Colon, is bound for Norfolk in tow of the revenue cutter Albatross. Captain Hayes, of the Alliance, thinks that the machinery can be repaired in Norfolk. The Alliance had seven passengers, left New York last Wednesday.

 The stranger in Boston was interested in the old family names of that city. He bore a strong letter of introduction to a prominent townsman. "I can give you from memory the names of all the old families of our city," the prominent townsman said, and he rattled off two or three dozens at an amazing rate.

The stranger looked up from his copy pad expectantly. "Is that all?" he asked.

"I have given you a complete list of Boston's leading families," the prominent townsman replied. "Not one of them dates back less than six generations."

The stranger stared. "But surely you have other old families of note in Boston," he replied.

"Merely transients," he replied. "The Boston man."

DR. L. D. CARPENTER.
 Whose funeral services will be held on Sunday.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF DR. CARPENTER
 Body Will Lie in State at the Masonic Temple on Sunday.

The funeral of Dr. L. D. Carpenter, who died suddenly Wednesday night, will be held from the Second Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The body has been taken to the undertaking parlors of Barclay & Brandon, where it will remain until 9 o'clock Sunday morning. At that time it will be taken to the Masonic Temple under an escort from the Knights Templars, where it will lie in state until the funeral.

The members of the Masonic board of relief will be the pallbearers and the interment will be in Oakland, the services being conducted by Atlanta lodge 59, F. & A. M.

The pallbearers are as follows: Dr. Amos Fox, Chris H. Essig, D. E. Shumake, D. E. Ashby, E. A. Hartsock, J. Lee Barnes, Dr. J. Ben Roberts, T. C. McDonald, W. F. Upshaw, John D. Simmon.

The pallbearers are requested to meet at the chapel of Barclay & Brandon at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, for the purpose of escorting the body of Dr. Carpenter to the Masonic Temple, where it will lie in state.

MANAGER W. A. MATTICE
ARRIVES IN ATLANTA

"Girl From Rectors" Will Be the First Shubert Offering.

William A. Mattice, manager of the Grand theater, arrived in Atlanta yesterday from Birmingham, where he was the manager of the Shubert house last year.

The new manager had a long experience at the theatrical game, a part of which he has spent in the south. The year before last he was the manager of the Wells house in Montgomery, and last year he spent in Birmingham.

He is enthusiastic over the outlook in Atlanta and hopes to make the year before last his list of attractions. The season will open with "The Girl From Rectors," on September 9. The list of bookings for September is a good one.

Dr. Bands will continue as treasurer, and Horace B. Paul will be his assistant.

Peter Barr Sweeney Dead.
 New York, September 1.—Peter Barr Sweeney, one of the leaders connected with the Tweed administration in this city, who were held blameless in the exposure of that historic ring, is dead at his summer home at Lake Mahopac for this year's list of attractions.

The season will open with "The Girl From Rectors," on September 9. The list of bookings for September is a good one.

Dr. Bands will continue as treasurer, and Horace B. Paul will be his assistant.

Flames Ravage Forests.
 Grass Valley, Cal., September 1.—A forest fire which started yesterday on a Placer county ranch, four miles from Auburn, is beyond control. Fanned by high winds it has jumped the Bear river and swept into Nevada county, threatening bridges, destroying timber belts and sweeping homesteads from the clearings.

Additional crews left here last night to reinforce the men now trying to check the flames. Millions of feet of pine and many farms are in the path of the fire.

Privates Forge Tickets.
 El Paso, Tex., September 1.—Railroad ticket offices in this city were swarmed out of nearly 2,000 yesterday by three members of the Twenty-third infantry, stationed at Fort Bliss. Two of the men are in custody at Fort Bliss and the third is in jail in Juarez. According to the military authorities at Fort Bliss, Privates Paul C. Hill, Clarence E. Tobias and Walter H. Creel forged the names of the authorities to final discharge and travel papers of fictitious soldiers and then sold the railway ticket offices in the purchase of three tickets and pocketed the change. Over $500 was recovered.

Four Aces Drove Him Crazy.
 Owensboro, Ky., September 1.—Four aces dealt in a poker game to Claude Lyons, a negro prisoner in the county jail here, drove him crazy. Lyons drove him crazy. He was being held on the charge of malicious shooting, and while the time away by playing cards with other prisoners. He was not in mental condition to go to court when his case was called Wednesday. He became incoherent, in which condition he has remained ever since.

CATCH AUDITOR OF G. & S. I. ROAD

E. L. Hall, Former Atlantan, Charged With Embezzlement of $5,000.

New Orleans, La., September 1.—E. L. Hall, the auditor of the Gulf and Ship Island railroad, president on the charge of embezzling $5,000 from the railroad, was arrested at the terminal station here today by local detectives, while preparing to leave on an afternoon train with his wife, son and daughter for Philadelphia. Hall had already purchased his tickets.

According to the officers a search of Hall's effects revealed an exchange draft for $888.81, issued by the First National Bank of Gulfport on the Second National Bank of New York, also a demand note for $50 in favor of Mrs. Hall, and about $100 in currency. Hall refused to discuss the charge, but said he would return to Mississippi without a requisition.

Hall told the officers that the funds in his possession represented cash from a fire insurance company policy on his residence and household effects which had been destroyed recently.

An attorney for the State bank of Gulfport, which served the affidavit against Hall, said this action was taken to protect his client against the suit filed by the railroad company to secure funds alleged to have been deposited by Hall to his personal account.

Hall was formerly disbursing officer of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., and is a native of Knoxville, Tenn. He is 42 years old.

BANDITS HOLD UP AND ROB TRAIN

Redding, Cal., September 1.—Three robbers, one a negro, held up the southbound Oregon express, on the Southern Pacific railroad, a mile and a half north of Lamona, forty miles north of Redding, at 9 o'clock. They blew open both safes in the express car, rifled them and escaped.

M'CLURE HEADS ASSOCIATION

Niagara Falls, N. Y., September 1.—(Special.)—G. W. McClure, of Atlanta, was today re-elected president of the National Association of Tea-Cut Merchants. The association closed a three-days' session today, the best in the history of the organization.

MANY CHANGES MADE IN RAILROAD CIRCLES

Athens, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Several changes occur today in railroad and telegraph circles here. Henry Whyte, agent for the S. A. L. and G. M., goes to Richmond, Va., to take the agency there. R. C. Curry, agent at Wilmington, N. C., comes here as agent, and will take charge Monday personally. Paul Pinkerton goes today to Atlanta to assume the duties of commercial agent for the Southern, and George Robertson, of Atlanta, comes to Athens to take the position here. C. R. Hughes, of Mobile, comes to Athens to take the place as manager for the Western Union Telegraph Company's offices here, and R. D. Ridley, whom he succeeds, goes today with the Georgia railway as train dispatcher.

SHOT PAL FOR BURGLAR.
 Anniston, Ala., September 1.—Dr. T. L. Smith, well known dentist, was shot and probably fatally wounded by his roommate, Joe G. Thomason, who mistook him for a burglar early today.

Thomason, who is a son of the late R. P. Thomason, former mayor of Oxford, Pa., was asleep when Smith returned from an entertainment at the home of Congressman P. L. Blackman, and fired before he recognized him.

COLOUR AFFAIR

Once in ever so long there comes a romance like in the Bishop's Carriage, The Brass Bowl, or The Circular Staircase, by a writer little known, but so obviously a supremely "good story" that the public with delight fairly jumps to read it. To this small and select group belongs SECRETARY OF AFFAIRS. It bubbles over with fun, good spirits, healthy excitement and the wholesome love affairs of charming young people.

LIGHTNING SETS HOUSE AFIRE; SAME BOLT PUT OUT BLAZE

Orange, N. J., September 1.—The strangest freak of lightning on record here was shown when the high school building was opened for the fall cleaning this week.

The painters found evidence that the building had been struck by a bolt during a recent storm, probably on Saturday last.

The bolt started a fire in the woodwork of the basement, but at the same time broke a water pipe which extinguished the blaze before serious damage had resulted.

ning board, or in the road, as her husband insists, while she was in front seat to the left of him, again was raised today when several automobile experts testified that a large pool of blood such as was found at the scene of the crime, could have trickled through the machinery of the car and flowed from the drip pan underneath to the ground.

The automobile experts were in line with the contention also that blood dripped from the machine in many places from the scene of the crime to the Owen home in Richmond. As each of the young husbands took his dead wife.

The defense introduced a score of witnesses to attack various other details in the evidence of the prosecution, and tomorrow it is expected that the jury will make emphatic contradiction of his cousin Paul's entire testimony, clinging to his story at the coroner's inquest, that a bearded highwayman murdered his wife, and that he took no part in a transaction concerning the purchase of the shotgun.

Beattie Cheerful.
 The prisoner was more cheerful at the end of today's discussion than he has been for some time. As each of the women friends who testified entered the courtroom he smiled and greeted them warmly. His gray-haired father, who sat beside him, escorted each to the witness chair, and when Hazel Beattie, his daughter, took the stand to testify to Henry's pleasant home life, the aged parent bent over and kissed the young girl as she stepped to the witness chair.

Testimony concerning the construction of automobiles and the likelihood of blood dripping to the ground through the lower machinery was given by Les Folger, Carroll Montague, Charles Taylor, John Von Lehmann and Marion Jones, automobile experts.

The new "1913 model" will soon be on display in all the millinery stores.

Why not just make every man in Georgia a colonel and be done with it?

The chances are "that touch of fall" may be delayed for a few days yet.

Let's see. How long has it been since we've had an "off year" in politics?

Georgia towns that are doing the most advertising are doing the biggest business.

A town without its chamber of commerce these days is like a side show without a "spieler."

At least there is no come-back in the charge that all this pellagra business is caused by the Buffalo gnat.

When all the judges get higher salaries, will there be any more hope of getting decisions that will not be reversed?

As the electric chair looms big, pathetic tales and flowing tears are beginning to figure prominently in the Beattie case.

Up to date it looks as if Dick Russell and Pope Brown had, between them, "swiped" about all the campaign thunder.

Attorney General Wickersham's negro appointee in Boston seems to have "slipped one over" on the American Bar Association.

It is surprising how many of those who are "urged by their numerous friends to get into the race" decline to make a try at it.

The Atlantic naval fleet is now testing out guns supposed to shoot about two miles. That looks like arbitration at long distance.

Peace through arbitration is surely coming, declares President Taft. Still we continue to build just a little bit bigger battleships than anybody else.

The average man who eagerly runs his automobile all over the country would promptly balk at the request of his wife to "crank up" the ice cream freezer.

Chairman Mack, of the democratic national committee, presents Governor Dix, of New York, as a presidential possibility. But Mr. Bryan has not yet taken Governor Dix's measure.

Those good roads in Sumter continue to boost the price of land. If other counties could see what has been done there, they'd go into their pockets for the money to foot the bills.

According to all reports, most of the politicians would like to have the campaign hold up a little bit until the farmers finish putting by their crops. It's hard to get a hearing at crop-gathering time.

When it is finally settled that arbitration shall supplant war as a means of settling international disputes, we presume it will still be found necessary to build big navies, just for police purposes.

John W. Gates' nephew is to get a quarter of a million for going through college. There's many a chap would be glad to do it for the food and clothing needed for the trip, and then pay it back with interest.

THE SHADOW OF AN ANNUAL LESSON.

With the near approach of the new cotton selling season will come the regular repetition of the object-lesson which needs to be driven home increasingly to the southern farmer—the wisdom of plugging the gap through which millions of dollars flow every year from this section to enrich the grangers and cattle growers of other portions of the country. At whatever price it sells, the cotton crop will pour a tremendous sum into southern coffers. But the thoughtful southerner—and the business man is in the same boat with the farmer in this connection—will find himself estimating how much larger that amount would be had the south pursued even more largely during the closing season the practice of raising its own food products.

It long ago became axiomatic among students of economics in the southern states that, given the proper enterprise, this section could amply maintain itself if shut off from every other portion of America. That spectacle was practically achieved during the epoch preceding the civil war, when the south sold its cotton for fancy prices in northern and European markets, produced the substance for its own dining tables and sent abroad only for the manufactured articles and luxuries which that day afforded.

With the cataclysm of reconstruction there came a change, and the south, up to within a few years ago, depended almost altogether upon other sections, not only for manufactured articles, but as well for the foodstuffs which should have been raised on its own acres. As a result, the farmer gradually fell into the habit of "single-shotting" on cotton, putting all his eggs into one basket. A consequence of this practice was shown several weeks ago in The Constitution by H. G. Hastings, of Atlanta, when he cited statistics to the effect that Georgia alone annually sent outside the state for products that should be produced here a sum larger than the yield from cotton.

There has, of course, been phenomenal improvement within the past decade. Increasingly, the farmer has turned to the cultivation of hogs and cattle, the grain crops, poultry and dairy products. In Georgia, the record of last winter and spring showed exceptional encouragement, in scale-breaking "porkers," and yields of corn to the acre unknown prior to the advent of scientific agriculture.

But what has thus far been accomplished in a return to the sensible ante-bellum system is merely a beginning. Not only should Georgia, but every other southern state as well, produce every pound of meat and practically all the other food products essential to man and beast, but they should as well so arrange allotments of acreage as gradually to achieve a margin for export purposes.

Concurrently with preparations to garner the crops of the maturing season, the large and small farmer will do well to bear these facts in mind. An additional mental incentive is the reminder that sound policy will be subserved by going voluntarily to wholesale diversification before the boll weevil brings on the goad of coercion.

AN EXHIBITION OF MANLINESS.

In a card notably refreshing in its straightforward manliness O. L. Gresham, veteran journal clerk of the Georgia house of representatives, elsewhere clears up the mystery surrounding the clerical error in the enrollment of the Atlanta charter. Mr. Gresham states that he himself enrolled the charter, and assumes absolute responsibility for the error around which so much discussion has been recently raging.

The high principle actuating him is seen in the fact that as soon as he saw his chief being made the target for criticism with regard to the error, Mr. Gresham comes forward voluntarily and frankly confesses his own responsibility in the premises. So doing, he has measured up amply to a gruelling test of manhood. Equally praiseworthy is the course of John T. Boiffeillet, Mr. Gresham's titular superior, in having assumed all responsibility in the premises rather than shift it to the shoulders of one serving under him. Mr. Boiffeillet could easily have protected himself from the start by revealing the identity of Mr. Gresham. With an exhibition of manliness equalling that of the latter he refused to accept this method of exonerating himself. Not until Mr. Gresham voluntarily expressed himself has Mr. Boiffeillet said a word that could have compromised any of his associates. Now that Mr. Gresham has spoken, Mr. Boiffeillet elsewhere makes full explanation of all the circumstances surrounding the occurrence.

His statement breathes a rare conception of the obligation of one gentleman to another, even though the one be in a subordinate capacity, and will convince anyone of the ease with which the most conscientious of workers could have slipped into the error.

One of the most remarkable features of the case is that had the whole state been ransacked for a man fitted, by peculiar and demonstrated ability, to undertake the important task of enrolling a difficult bill, the choice would undoubtedly have fallen on Mr. Gresham. He has had fourteen years' experience as enrolling clerk in the house, is intimately familiar with its routine, and is regarded by members and employees who have served over that extended period as an adept in the many intricacies of the work with which he has been identified. His singular qualifications in this respect have caused him to be entrusted, time and again, with the enrollment of the most important measures of successive sessions, and as the oldest and one of the most competent of the house staff of clerks, he was the highest paid of the number. He comes of one of the oldest and best-known families in Georgia, and is every inch a splendid type of the gentleman, as his card testifies.

No one in Atlanta or Georgia could have been more intensely interested in the proper direction of the new charter than The Constitution. No one could more deeply deplore any development that might throw even a hypothetical cloud upon its validity. But knowing Messrs. Gresham and Boiffeillet as we do we do not hesitate to say that the manly statement of the former will satisfy the public.

A regrettable incident is thus brought to a close.

PROGRESS OF ARBITRATION TREATIES.

The relentless opposition which developed to the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France, recently negotiated by President Taft and the state department, sent them over for consideration at another session of congress.

The opponents of the treaty, among whom is Senator Bacon, of Georgia, are not opposed to the principle of arbitration. They are not advocates of war, and would be as slow to bring on hostilities.

In basing their opposition upon the ground that the existing Hague convention is adequate to the adjudication of all disputes the nation wishes to submit to arbitration, they are taking a strong position.

Senator Bacon ranks high as an authority on legal questions, and as a fearless and sagacious counsellor in any problem affecting the relations of the United States with foreign governments. He is not one of the jingoes, and when he takes as positive position as he has in regard to the pending arbitration treaties, the people of Georgia will be inclined to give heed to the reasons which impelled him to do so.

An amendment to the pending treaty exempting from its provisions questions which may arise under the Monroe doctrine, is being urged by Senator Bacon. It has much to commend it. No American expects any temporizing on that subject.

But the cause of arbitration is one which makes a strong appeal to the people of the nation, and any measure which aims at reducing the burdens of armaments and the destruction of war, is to be given the most thoughtful consideration.

Even Germany has announced a wish to negotiate a treaty with the United States similar to those already negotiated with Great Britain and France. Will Germany also be willing to exempt questions arising under the Monroe doctrine?

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

If Jean Were Here.

I know this world is picturesque;
I hold its shyest daisies dear,
And there'd be one on this my desk
If Jean were here.

I know this summer sweet would ring
A song from out the shadows dear,
And there would be a heart to sing
If Jean were here.

I know that where these shadows flit,
And life's a burden hard to bear,
I would thank God for all of it
If Jean were here.

And though I lift not from earth's sod
Eyes to a heaven Faith fashions dear,
These lips might bless the Unknown God
If Jean were here.

Talking of "Honey."

A correspondent asks if the word "Honey," as a term of endearment is peculiar to any section.

Well, it's long been in use in the rural districts of the south; but it's nearly as old as the hills. Shakespeare used it in "Othello," where the Moor says to Desdemona: "Honey, you shall be well desired in Cyprus."
Also the poet, Coogler—an' we are not mistaken—hath a rhyme of this purpose:
"In the days when life was sunny,
Susan smiled and called me 'Honey.'"
We once heard a Billville matron calling to her husband who was digging bait in the garden: "Honey, if you don't drop that hoe an' fetch me in a cord of wood, I'll break this wash tub over yo' head!"

The Same Old Way.

What is the cheer of this passing year?
What woe the lives of men?
The same old burdens for hearts to bear
Over and over again,
The same old burdens in paths we've trod,
But love to lighten them all—thank God!

What is the cheer of this passing year?
A little of joy—and then
The sigh, the sorrow, the falling tear,
Over and over again,
The roses will bloom from the thorny sod,
And the dark will lead to the light of God!

Not in Deep Water.

"I see that new writer is 'in the swim' at last."
"That's strange, I haven't heard him hollerin' for rope!"

A Field For Him There.

An enterprising specialist in a small college town where baseball and football fever rages, has hung out the following sign:
"Baseball physician—also football specialist."

"Limbs set while you wait."
"Artificial legs and arms."
"Terms cash."

In the "Dry" Town.

"How and where did you get whisky on Sunday?" asked the mayor.
"I didn't drink no whisky."
"But you were drunk. How do you explain that?"

"I stick by what I said, yer honor. I didn't drink nothin' in the woe! but hair tonic an' red ink!"

A run on Georgia potato banks results in a halleluia time all around!

Lots of time spent in hoping for the best—precious little in working for it.

STATE CHAMBER AUTO ARRIVES IN LAGRANGE

Secretary Wakefield Gratified With Work Accomplished in Seventh District.

LaGrange, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—The official party of the state chamber of commerce in the Packard "30" arrived in LaGrange Friday morning, en route to West Point, where they are to attend a "Booster" banquet Friday evening, which will be given under the auspices of the West Point Board of Trade.

The party was further augmented in this city by President W. A. Reeves, Secretary Lester C. Busch, R. L. Roder and others of the local chamber to West Point, the local party returning at midnight.

In an interview, Secretary Wakefield of the state chamber, said that results of work in the seventh district were highly satisfactory, and that Rome, after a meeting had been called to hear the plans and purposes and scope of the state chamber work, through the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club and individuals as well as firms, had heartily endorsed the movement and taken membership.

The balance of the cities in the seventh district are to be visited next week, after which the party will tour the fourth district, comprising the counties of Troup, Macon, Heard, Chatahoochee, Muscogee, Harris, Marion, Talbot, Carroll and Coweta, which are under the vice presidency of Hon. R. W. Trimble, of Trimble, Ga.

The banquet at West Point is to be given at the Moultre Banking Company. LaGrange has already been taken, LaGrange has been a member of the state chamber since its inception, and was one of the first to boost the move, the local chamber of commerce being entirely satisfied with the purposes of the organization. Secretary Busch, of the LaGrange chamber, who is secretary for the fourth district, and LaGrange will be the district headquarters.

Negro Attempts Forgery.

Moultrie, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—A clumsy attempt at forgery was attempted by a negro named W. L. Harris when he signed the name of Hicks & Watson, a drug firm in this city, on the back of a check made payable to them and attempted to negotiate it at the Moultrie Banking Company. The check was one drawn by Mrs. R. L. Shipley to the order of Hicks & Watson, and the negro, being Mrs. Shipley's cousin, who is secretary for the fourth district, was turned over to Sheriff Boyd to be held until court convenes in October.

Formal Transfer of Deed.

Waycross, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Negroes from all over south Georgia will come to Waycross Labor day week to attend the annual convention of the deed to the South Georgia Industrial college, the new colored institution just completed here, which is to be secretary for the fourth district, and LaGrange will be the district headquarters.

New Lumber Company.

Seneca, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—An important business deal was consummated here this week when Messrs. J. T. and L. E. Arnall purchased the entire business and stock of the Seneca Lumber Company. The firm will be known in future as the Arnall Lumber Company, and they will add considerably more to the lines handled, so it will be one of the most complete retail lumber businesses in the county.

HABERSHAM LAUNCHES GOOD ROADS BOOM

Many Gather at Enthusiastic Meeting Held in Clarksville.

Clarksville, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Habersham county launched itself off into the good roads column here yesterday, when over one thousand of its citizens gathered at the county courthouse to listen to experienced men tell of the success other counties have made in making good roads and the advantages they have over counties that have not yet done so.

The entire morning was consumed in listening to Dr. L. G. Hardman, Professor C. M. Strong, S. W. McCallie, state geologist; Mr. Winslow, Hon. J. D. Price, president of Georgia dairyman; Dr. Miller, A. M. Kitchens and Hon. J. A. Robinson, ordinary of Habersham county. The talks were good and timely, and a favorable impression was made on all those who were present, and from the expressions heard on all sides after the meeting, one knew that Habersham county would soon take her place among her sister counties from a standpoint of good roads. After the speaking, the crowd was tendered a grand barbecue.

People came from many points in adjoining counties and a general good time was had all around, with two bands furnishing music for the occasion. It was a red-letter day for Habersham county.

This public demonstration seems to be in accord with the presentments of the recent grand jury of this county, in which they recommended ordinary to begin working the convictions on Habersham's roads. No doubt but within the near future this county will have made rapid strides in this direction.

COTTON CATERPILLAR INVADES TROUP COUNTY

Estimated That Its Depredations Will Decrease Crop 20 Per Cent.

LaGrange, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—The cotton caterpillar has appeared in various places in Troup county. This information has been brought in by a number of the prominent farmers of the county who say that all the young bolls of cotton as well as the leaves will soon be eaten up and the crop will be about 20 per cent short of the estimate for 1911 because of this worm's activities.

Up to this time the farmers of Troup expected to have an enormous yield of cotton, in fact the largest ever produced by this county. Various estimates had been placed on the crop and conservatives have placed the figures at 50,000 bales for the county. This estimate would exceed last year's estimated production of 24,000 bales by 6,000. Increased acreage and good crops account for the big increase.

Should the market price of cotton be equal to that of 1910 and 1909, many farmers of this county will be able to make enough money to put them on a firm financial footing. Many have just barely cleared off all their mortgages while some few still have small debts. With high priced cotton they will be in good financial condition.

OYSTERS ON MARKET NOW
SELL AT 30 AND 40 CENTS

Oysters are now on the market, and those who have found it difficult to derive attractive menus at the end of the summer, will find them a most excellent highness, even if they do have to pay cents for the privilege of their appearance at their table.
Standard oysters cost 30 cents a quart, and select oysters 40 cents a quart.
Shell oysters will not be on the market until September 15.
Other water foods are as follows:
Pompano, 30 cents a pound; halibut,

30 cents; California salmon, 20 cents; Spanish mackerel, 20 cents; perch, 12½ cents; Norfolk Spots, 15 cents; trout, 15 cents; blue fish, 15 cents.
In the produce markets there is nothing new, the same line of vegetables and fruits that have been obtainable during the summer still being offered in the usual prices.
A little later vegetables will begin to go up in price on account of the approach of winter, and the price of meats also will probably be slightly increased.

75 PER CENT OF ALTO PATIENTS MUST HELP PAY FOR TREATMENT

The executive committee of the trustees of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium held an important meeting yesterday in the office of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association in the Gould building. There were present at the meeting Captain W. G. Raoul, chairman; Hon. T. D. Hensley, Macon; Dr. R. T. Whitley, Douglasville; Dr. Henry R. Slack, LaGrange; Dr. C. H. Richardson, Montezuma; and Dr. Jeff Davis, Toccoa.

Captain W. G. Raoul resigned the chairmanship which he has filled so efficiently from the first. He did this because he expects to go abroad soon and will be gone some time for his health. The board passed a vote of thanks to Captain W. G. Raoul for his valuable services as chairman. They then elected Dr. Jeff Davis, of Toccoa, chairman, and Dr. Henry R. Slack, of LaGrange, vice chairman.

In view of the fact that the appropriation for the maintenance of the sanatorium was cut to $200,000, and no allowance made for improvements, it was decided after October 1 to take only 25 per cent of the patients free and the other 75 must pay $3.00 per week on 60 cents per day. This is necessary in order to keep the institution running. The situation at Alto is ideal, and all the patients who have gone there in the early stages of the disease have improved.

The committee decided to enter on an educational work for home treatment of those who can't enter the sanatorium and anyone suffering with tuberculosis can obtain valuable literature on the home treatment of the disease by addressing and enclosing stamp, to the secretary State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, 707 Gould building, Atlanta, Ga.

MR. RAMBO POSTPONED RIDE;
THIEF HAD TAKEN AUTO TIRES

R. K. Rambo, of the Silver-Smith Company, who lives at 442 West Peachtree street, wanted a ride yesterday afternoon. What Mr. Rambo wants he "most generally always gets," and in this instance he had no idea that he was going to be disappointed. His big touring car was in his garage and all he had to do was to crank her up.

But some smooth thief had been ahead of the owner during the night and the powerful motor was useless through the theft of the tires. Mr. Rambo didn't want to run on the rims, so he postponed the ride. Not content with the tires off the wheels, the thief also took a number of extra inner tubes and casings, which were stored in the garage. He effected an entrance by prying planks from the side. A number of other thefts were reported Friday which netted the light-footed gentry a considerable amount of citizens' property, although there was no big haul. Among the losses were: S. G. Crouch, 310 Pulliam street, several pieces of jewelry, gold glasses and a small quantity of money; Mrs. R. P. Keith, 680 Spring street, gold pendant and some clothing; Mrs. James Bowman, 210 Capitol avenue, box of clothing, lost in moving; valued at $150; E. O. Williams, College Park, $40 in money, a suit case and clothes; R. J. Deane, 406 Merritt avenue, savings bank, card case and money.

ASTOR SETTLES $5,000,000
ON HIS YOUNG BRIDE-TO-BE

New York, September 1.—The sum which Colonel John Jacob Astor settled upon his fiancée, Miss Madeline Force, in the marriage agreement signed at Newport last Monday, was $5,000,000, according to The Herald today. In addition to $5,000,000, which will belong to the young woman the moment she is pronounced Mrs. Astor, a further settlement was made. It is said, providing that liberal provision shall be made for Miss Force in Colonel Astor's will which is to be drawn immediately after the wedding, and deposited with the marriage agreement.

It is generally understood among the friends of Colonel Astor and Miss Force that the wedding will be delayed long. The ceremony probably will take place at Beechwood, the Astor villa at Newport, and will be very simple. Only a few intimate friends and relatives will attend. It is understood that the pair will go to Europe on their honeymoon. The wedding will remain away for a year. The Noma will follow them across and the bride will be at the station in the Mediterranean, passing several months in Egypt in the winter.

MOULTRE TO HOLD BIG COTTON CARNIVAL

Many Prizes Will Be Offered to the Exhibitors—Out-of-State Visitors Expected.

Moultrie, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Beginning Monday, September 11, a big cotton carnival will open up in this city in full blast. The matter is outlined by the chamber of commerce is intended to bring the farmers of the county together and request them to prepare exhibits of the best cotton samples together with other farm products, such as hay, corn, oats, potatoes and fruits. Prizes, both cash and medals, are being offered for the best exhibit of the individual products and then a large cash prize for the best collective display.

The primary object of the carnival is to get these products collected to show to a car of commercial buyers, and to arrive at that time from north-east Georgia and South Carolina.

QUITMAN WHITE HOUSE DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Guests Escape but Water Pressure Inadequate to Save the Hotel.

Quitman, Ga., September 1.—The Hotel White House was burned this morning at 2:45 o'clock. It is a complete loss.
All the guests escaped. The water pressure was inadequate to fight the flames, the water main having burst a few hours previous to the discovery of the fire. The loss is estimated at $12,000.

Want 13-Cent Cotton.

Butler, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—The following resolution was passed by the Farmers' Union of Taylor county, at a meeting held August 28: "Resolved, That we, the Farmers' Union of Taylor, inasmuch as the cotton crop for the year of 1911 has been over-estimated, and the present price is not remunerative, demand and take not less than thirteen cents a pound for our cotton, and ask non-union men, merchants and bankers, to co-operate with us in this demand. Resolved, That this resolution be presented to the press for publication."

Fine Record for Band.

Moultrie, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—This city and the citizens are considerably elated over the recognition accorded the Moultrie Cornet Band by the State Fair Association engaging them to furnish music during the fair in Macon in October from the 10th to the 20th. This institution is one that the citizens take great pride in supporting, for it has become one of the best musical organizations in the state. It is composed entirely of local young men.

Farmers' Union Rally.

Seneca, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—A most enjoyable Farmers' Union rally was held at Seneca, Ga., Wednesday. There were several hundred people present. President C. S. Barrett and Hon. G. F. Hunsicker were the principal speakers of the day. After the speaking a barbecue was served. Farming has so improved in that community, that land values have advanced 100 per cent in the past two years, a large tract having sold there recently for $45 per acre.

RUSSELL ANNOUNCES MORE SPEAKING DATES

Will Visit Every Section of the State During the Next Few Weeks.

Judge Richard Russell, candidate for governor, has made speaking engagements for the next few weeks which will take him from Calhoun, in the extreme northern section of the state, to Camilla, in southwest Georgia, and Springfield, in southeast Georgia.

The dates announced at his headquarters yesterday, in addition to the ones already published, are as follows: September 5, Calhoun, at court recess; September 15, Camilla, at court recess; September 18, Springfield, at court recess; October 4, Montezuma, at Macon county fair.

Judge Russell has received an invitation from Griffin to speak on Labor day there, but has been forced to decline on account of a previous date.

WOULDN'T CALL FIREMEN; WAS SERIOUSLY BURNED

Savannah Girl Didn't Want Excitement and Tried to Extinguish Fire.

Savannah, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—When she attempted to put out a fire in her clothes closet without calling the fire department because of the excitement that would be caused, Miss Philomena Gasmen was seriously burned on her arms and ankles.

Neighbors seeing the smoke sent in the alarm. When the firemen arrived, Miss Gasmen was still in the closet trying to throw the burning clothes out in the room. She was carried into the next room, where her burns were dressed by the firemen until a physician could be summoned. "My intention was to extinguish the fire without calling for the fire engine, as I did not want to create any excitement," Miss Gasmen explained. "I continued to pull the clothes out until the firemen came and made me stop."

CITY NEWS

Motor Company Sued.—O. F. Walraven has filed suit for $5,000 damages against the Lord Henderson Motor Company, and Renfro Jackson and F. J. Long, alleging that they willfully and improperly levied upon an automobile which he had bought. James H. Dodgen is Walraven's attorney.

Suit for $15,000 Brought.—Charging gross negligence on the part of the Central of Georgia railway, Mrs. Dora Thrall has filed suit for $15,000 as recompense for the death of her husband, John T. Thrall, killed by a train on August 26, while going from Peters street across to Whitehall. Moore & Branch represent Mrs. Thrall.

Drowning of Child.—Mrs. Teresa Hoffman has entered suit for $15,000 against the city of Atlanta because her 7-year-old son was drowned in Piedmont lake. The child was drowned on September 4, 1910. The little boy went in wading in the lake that afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock, and got out over his depth. Mrs. Hoffman alleges that the accident was due to gross negligence on the part of the city, that it knew that the lake dropped suddenly to a great depth, and that no warnings of the fact had been given, nor any provisions for safety made. J. McSwain Wood and Rollin H. Kimball are Mrs. Hoffman's attorneys.

Was Wrong Chauffeur.—Ex-Mayor Robert F. Maddox appeared in the police court yesterday morning after his chauffeur, who had been arrested for violating the road laws. Mr. Maddox has proved the price of his car, No. 119, that being the number under which the arrest was made, had not been out of the garage on the day named by the officer. The officer admitted that he might have been mistaken, and declared he did not think Mr. Maddox's chauffeur, Crawford Johnson, was the party he was after. The case was dismissed and Mr. Maddox's chauffeur was released. He would make a pretty good lawyer.

Wedding Price Goes Up.—Police court weddings now cost $1.50, instead of $1, as the barber-priest, J. W. Spearman, has proved the price of his services. A police court wedding is one in which the contracting parties decide to wed rather than be prosecuted in the state courts. They have this privilege under the law, and as wedded life is, to the average Darktown citizen, not near so undesirable as the chapering, these police court weddings occur very frequently. Rev. Spearman, who runs a barber shop near the police station, "caught on" to the hymeneal business in the police court, and, certain that he could make many an extra dollar between shaves, inaugurated himself as the regular police court tier of hymeneal knots. His first knot, but a knot, but, as developed Friday morning at a wedding, he has raised the price to $1.50 a knot.

Sunday Schools Meet.—The regular monthly session of the Atlanta Baptist Sunday School Association will be held Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the Georgia Baptist Orphans' Home in Hapeville. Short addresses will be made by Rev. J. F. Purser, Rev. W. R. Owen, A. C. Briscoe, Dr. Joe Broughton, E. M. Price, F. J. Colledge, M. Anderson and W. M. Perryman. This will afford a splendid opportunity for persons interested in attending the Baptist Orphans' Home, as well as to get benefit of results from the Sunday School Association. The various schools of the organization are urged to send large delegations. President John M. Green will preside.

Rev. McCutcheon Home.—Rev. Thos. E. McCutcheon and family have just returned from Blue Ridge, where they have spent the last two weeks in quiet and rest. Mr. McCutcheon returns to his work much improved and will assume the duties of the Atlanta Baptist Sunday School Association at 11 a. m. at the West End church, W. M. U. Monday 3 p. m., and the Highland Park church Wednesday night.

Buy Your Diamonds Now On Our Attractive Monthly Payment Plans

If you require a solitaire diamond engagement ring this fall, or expect to present a diamond as a holiday gift, it will be wise to anticipate your purchase. The wholesale diamond market is more than ten per cent higher than it was this time a year ago. Dealers who have to replenish their stocks from now on will be compelled to sell the new diamonds in the neighborhood of $25.00 per carat more. This advance will apply on stones weighing from 1/4 carat upward on the top grades. Our attractive selling plans permit your buying by paying only one-fifth down, the balance in convenient monthly payments. BAXLEY BRIDGE PLAN COMPLETED

May Be Effort to Finish It For Fall Tour.

J. E. Wood Goes to Baxley to Confer With Promoters of Project—Says It Can Be Finished if Contract Is Let at Once.

Plans for the construction of a steel bridge across the Altamaha river, between Appling and Toombs counties, near Baxley, which is now the only means of crossing at that point, have been completed and were carried to Baxley last night by J. E. Wood, of Atlanta, agent for the Massillon, Ohio, Bridge and Structural Company.

Mr. Wood spent two weeks at Baxley and gathered all the data necessary for preparing plans for the proposed bridge. It is stated it will cost about $30,000 to build it, and of this amount $10,000 has been raised in Appling and $10,000 in Toombs counties. Efforts are now being made by entreprising citizens of Baxley to get the balance of the fund so that work may be begun immediately.

The bridge proper is to be 565.6 feet long with a 200-foot draw in the center. On the Toombs county side there will have to be built about 5,640 feet of wooden trestle work through the swamp, though it is possible to use the swamp road until this can be done.

Mr. Wood stated before leaving Atlanta that if a contract for the bridge could be let at once it could undoubtedly be completed in time for the 1911 fall tour around the state, this being the point where the cars will have to cross the river. At present the only means of crossing the Altamaha anywhere in south Georgia is by ferry.

The proposed bridge is to be a substantial one and Mr. Wood states that when completed it will support a 20-ton steam road roller.

CENTRAL'S REPORT SHOWS PROSPERITY

Indications Are That Railroads in the State Will Make Splendid Showing.

Indications are that the annual report of the railroads for the last fiscal year, July 1, 1910, to June 30, 1911, will show greater prosperity than for any other period in the history of the state.

Only one has filed its report with the railroad commission so far; that one is the Central of Georgia. It shows that its gross earnings increased more than a half million dollars and its net earnings about a quarter of a million.

Summarized, the report shows: Gross earnings for the fiscal year of 1910 and 1911, $10,150,074.49, against $9,581,193.44, for the previous year. Net earnings, $3,511,491.59, against $3,222,266.43. Operating expenses, $6,678,593.19, against $6,358,927.23. Gross earnings, per mile, $7,642.34, against $7,190.33. Operating expenses, per mile, $6,012.08, against $6,772.18. Net earnings, per mile, $2,630.26, against $2,418.21. Operating expenses do not include taxes or any kind of permanent improvements.

The figures are for the company's operations in Georgia alone. The mileage in this state is 1,322.51, and the side tracks and lines $450.81; an increase of about 10 miles over the last fiscal year.

The showing is regarded as a splendid one, and as reflecting the great prosperity of the state as a whole. Other big roads have not reported, but are expected to do so within the next week or ten days. The smaller lines show increases relatively small to those made by the Central.

The reports were made out in accordance with the accounting regulations of the interstate commerce commission.

DROWNED IN HURRICANE.

Body of Man Found in Savannah River.

Savannah, Ga., September 1.—The first fatality in Savannah as the result of the hurricane of Sunday and Monday was reported today when the body of J. T. Buehrer was found near Port Jackson at the mouth of the Savannah river, with his boat swamped. He lived on Elba Island, and was evidently trying to reach the city when the storm swamped his rowboat.

Damage in Emanuel.

Swainsboro, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—For two days there was the heaviest downpour of rain that ever fell in Emanuel county. Lands were badly washed, and streams are unusually high, many bridges being washed away. The damage done to roads and bridges can hardly be estimated. Both corn and cotton have been damaged, nearly fifty per cent in case of cotton and no so much in corn, it being blown down.

BIG MEETING OF COTTON FARMERS

Session of Commissioners of Agriculture of Cotton States Creates Interest.

Efforts will be made to make the meeting of the cotton states to be held in Montgomery, September 12, the most substantial gathering of cotton farmers that ever took place in the south.

In addition to the commissioners, Farmers Union officials and members will be invited to attend and take part. The governors of all the cotton states will be asked to name large delegations of persons interested in the cotton situation.

Every element of the cotton industry is expected to be represented. Those attending will be expected to report on conditions in their localities. These views will be consolidated, so that a clear view of the status of the cotton crop may be gained.

It is believed that the condition of the crop has fallen off at least 25 per cent, during the past month or six weeks. The delegates at the Montgomery meeting, it is believed, will make reports refuting the prediction of a 15,000,000-bale harvest this fall.

It is also probable that the meeting will fix an upshot price for the staple, and farmers will be urged to hold their cotton for that price.

Steps will be taken to facilitate the financing of distressed staple and keep it from being hurried on the market.

FLOODS THREATEN IN SOUTH GEORGIA

Many Bridges Are Down and Others May Follow.

Condition, However, Seems to Be Improving, Though It Is Still Serious—Water Higher Than Ever Seen by Oldest Inhabitants.

Waycross, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—With local rains making permanent repair work difficult and all creeks falling only to add to the rise in the Satilla tonight, the situation for the railroads appears brighter, but is yet serious. Today's rise in the Satilla put water up even within half a mile of the Atlanta line of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic 6 miles north of Waycross. Levees were constructed by a large force of men, and this alone saved a washout that would have taken a week to repair. At Hurricane creek 250 feet of embankment have been carried away and the trestle damaged.

The Appling county bridge has been carried away near Alma, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. The smaller washouts have been repaired on all lines. Through traffic has been maintained over the Southern via Waycross today. Freight traffic is moving now by detours.

The Fitzgerald, Ocilla and Broxton was opened to traffic today after a two days' suspension. Weather conditions are so threatening as to give every reason to expect more serious trouble during the next twenty-four hours.

Steam shovels and extra gangs have been rushed to this section to hurry the repairs and stop the water. Until the results of today's rain are known the losses to railroads cannot be estimated accurately.

The rains have flooded this county. The streams are all out of their banks and with no exceptions the county bridges are all washed away. The A. B. & A. bridge just a half-mile from town is expected to go at any time. All trains have been routed via Waycross. In the memory of the oldest inhabitants nothing like such high water has been reached before.

Cotton was damaged one-third, the seed are sprouting in the bolls. The farmers in this section are taking a very gloomy view of the situation.

MAY SAVE LEXINGTON.
Things Hopeful for Steamer Aground Off Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., September 1.—The agent of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company this morning received the following wireless telegram from Captain Connolly, of the steamer Lexington, aground off Botany Bay Island, Georgia.

"Everything in fine shape this morning. Sea running smooth, clear weather."

It is now believed if the sea remains calm and the atmospheric conditions do not change the Lexington may be saved.

Savannah, Ga., September 1.—The steamer Shawmut (British), for Savannah to load coals for Philadelphia, is off Tybee with a broken shaft and will be brought here for repairs.

from the residence at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at 2 o'clock the body will be sent to Salem, N. C., for interment. Mrs. Preston is survived by two sons, Major W. J. Preston, of Atlanta, and H. H. Preston, of Eden, N. C., and two daughters, Mrs. C. M. Watson, of Fayetteville, N. C., and Miss Mallie Preston, of this city.

Dr. M. S. Boyd.
Dr. M. S. Boyd, 71 years old, died at the residence, 18 Clifford street, last night at 8 o'clock. The body was removed to Barclay & Brandon's and the funeral arrangements will be announced Saturday.

RAGSDALE IMPOSES FINE AND PAYSIT

Acting Recorder Springs Something Quite Unique in Police Jurisprudence.

Alderman Ragdale, while acting as recorder yesterday morning, developed into one of the most considerate judges that ever sat upon the bench. Howard New, a citizen of Carrollton, Ga., came to Atlanta and, having become overloaded with near beer, spent the early morning hours on a front lawn of a Peachtree street home. He was found there by Sergeant Maddox and locked up. At the Friday morning session of the police court, New told Alderman Ragdale that he was from Carrollton, and stated that if he was let off, he would promise never to violate Atlanta's laws again. Alderman Ragdale let him off with the lightest fine possible, which was $1.75.

That showed that the alderman was very kind-hearted and considerate, but his kindness did not end there, for he told New that he would inquire of some Carrollton men he knew in Atlanta, and if he found the prisoner's story was true, he would loan him the money with which to pay the fine. For a judge to fine a prisoner and then loan him the money with which to pay the fine, is something quite unique in police jurisprudence.

Merchant Tailoring Is Our Added Feature

We've added a merchant tailoring department to our business --and there's no cozier nor better appointed in Atlanta. It's on the third floor of our building, in front--where there's an abundance of daylight. Elevator service.

We are showing a large assortment of piece-goods from the best American and foreign mills. These we make up into men's suits and overcoats to measure--from $20 to $40. Were you to pay double, you couldn't get better.

We give these extraordinary values because we don't saddle the entire expense of doing business on the merchant tailoring--but divide it between our various departments. This means high-class tailoring and very moderate prices.

DAILY FASHION HINTS

SIMPLICITY THE KEYNOTE OF CHARM IN CHILDISH DRESS.

A little girl's frock, made of handsome material, is usually twice as smart if made with utmost simplicity but good lines. This combination of simplicity and modish cut is shown in the afternoon frock pictured. The material is challis, with blue and tan dots scattered on a cream ground. There is a roundly cut kimono waist attached to a pleated skirt, the round neck being finished by a handsome Irish collar fastened at the back. Bands of blue velvet ribbon and fancy steel buttons add just the right trimming touch.

FOUNTAIN HEADS MORRIS BROWN

New President Elected to Succeed the Late Dr. E. W. Lee.

Announcement was made last night that W. A. Fountain, a prominent educator of Macon, had been elected president of Morris Brown college, the well-known negro institution, at a meeting held in Macon on Thursday. He succeeds the late Dr. E. W. Lee, who dropped dead last June while he was attending the commencement exercises of Wilberforce university.

Cotton Badly Damaged.

Perry, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—The continued rains of the past few days have wrought great damage to the cotton crop in this section. C. P. Cooper exhibited on the streets this week some bolls taken from a patch of cotton he has in the corporate limits of town which were dead, seeming to have been stung by an insect. Taking the cotton altogether, the yield has been decreased considerably in the last few weeks by various causes.

Council Committee Will Investigate the Poor Service Given Atlanta People.

There will be a meeting today at noon of the special council committee appointed to investigate the poor service which has been given Atlanta by the postoffice authorities. This committee was appointed at the last meeting of council under a resolution introduced by Councilman Chambers, and is as follows: Mayor Winn, chairman; Aldermen Spradling and Councilmen Nutting, Humphrey and Chambers. The committee, it is understood, intends to make a thorough investigation of the situation, and to do whatever is possible to have remedied the evil complained of.

Milk of Amazing Richness Thick as Thick Cream

Milk from high-bred cows, kept in model dairies. A germless milk—8 per cent butter fat—sold on a 6-cent basis.

The finest milk produced in America is sold in cans under the name Van Camp.

It comes from Holstein cows, fed and bred in famous dairying sections. It is produced under rigid inspection.

In seven years we have spent over $100,000 to learn how to bring it to you in perfect condition. We have employed for the purpose famous Dutch and Swiss experts. The result is a milk like the milks of Switzerland—right at your very door.

Absolutely Sterile

Close to each dairy—in seven states—we have built a model evaporating plant. All are built without wood.

The milk fresh from the cows is there put in a vacuum. Two-thirds of the water is slowly evaporated. And, because of the vacuum, this is done without a scalding heat.

The evaporated milk is sealed up in tin cans. Then each can is sterilized. Not a germ of any kind can exist in it.

In milkman's milk, as you know, there are millions of germs. In Van Camp's there are none at all.

Orange Ice Cream
To two cans of Van Camp's Milk add one can of water which has been boiled and cooled. Stir in and dissolve three-fourths pound granulated sugar. Add the juice of six oranges and the grated rind of one. Freeze in the usual way. Write for our book of 131 recipes, including all sorts of ice cream.

Van Camp, Packing Co. Indianapolis, Ind.

Like Using Cream

Van Camp's as it comes to you is as thick as thick cream. So thick that you add one part water for coffee, cereals or ice cream. It is 28 per cent solids, 8 per cent butter fat.

This milk gives to milk dishes amazing richness and flavor. Yet it is nothing but milk. We add not an atom of anything.

The difference is this: Milkman's milk separates. The butter fat rises and the solids fall. When that milk gets to your cooking it is rarely more than a half milk.

Van Camp's is the whole milk. It has all the butter fat, all the solids, which belong to the richest milk. That is why milk dishes made with it seem so exceedingly rich.

Six Cents Per Quart

When you reduce Van Camp's to the usual milk's richness the cost will figure about six cents per quart.

We save shipping bulk by removing most of the water. We save you the cost of the milkman's daily delivery. That costs more than the milk.

Then Van Camp's saves all waste. You open a can when you want it, and it keeps till you use it up. You have never too much or too little.

In the average home, the use of Van Camp's cuts milk bills right in two.

A Cow in the Pantry

You can buy, if you wish, a month's supply at a time. Then you have milk or cream for any purpose, all the time and all you want.

The milk has the maximum richness. It is utterly sterile. It is always fresh. When you put back the water it is exactly the same as it came from the cow, save for sterilization.

When you prove these facts by one day's use of Van Camp's you will never go without it.

Be Sure of Van Camp's

We have brought this milk to such a high standard that no other American milk can compare with it. So many people have found this out that we now milk 30,000 cows daily to supply the demand for Van Camp's.

Yet Van Camp's costs no more than common evaporated milks. The 16-oz. can—a full pint of Van Camp's—costs 10 cents. The 6-oz. can costs 5 cents.

Your grocer has it, shipped from our nearest dairy. Ask him now—before you forget it—to send you a small supply.

Brannen's Drug Stores Purchased By Jacobs' Pharmacy

OPEN FOR BUSINESS THIS MORNING

The Jacobs' Pharmacy beg to announce that they have purchased the Three Brannen Drug Stores, located at 102 Whitehall Street, 357 Peters Street and 245 Houston Street, and beginning this morning they shall be operated in the future as additional links to the chain of Jacobs' stores.

Jacobs' Pharmacy from its very start has stood in the foreground of Atlanta's progress, and to our many friends and patrons who have watched our steady growth the announcement of this addition to our stores will not be a great surprise, for it is the inevitable result which the continuously increasing volume of our business has made apparent for some months past.

Over 26 years ago we began business in Atlanta with one store, but we established that business on a solid foundation stone—the Best Public Service; and it has spelled Success from the beginning. We have given the people of Atlanta the best service that it is possible to give. We have sold nothing that we could not stand back of, and we have been satisfied with small profits, preferring to do a big business on a small margin of profit, rather than a small business on a big margin. We knew that this policy would bring the business to us. And the business has come to us, steadily, through all the years, and continuously increasing in volume, compelling us to expand and grow with it and to add one store after another, until today we have reached the point where Jacobs' Pharmacy needs Ten Stores in Atlanta to take care of its patronage.

It is the people of Atlanta who have made this growth, and whose friendship we have gained through maintaining steadfastly our policy, the Best Public Service, which means also the Lowest Prices; and we take this opportunity to express to them our sincere thanks and appreciation of their good will.

We beg to announce that the Three Brannen Stores will be reorganized immediately and operated under the Jacobs' Pharmacy policy. With the purchase of these stores we have taken over their stock and good-will, and we trust the good-will of their patrons; and it will be the part of Jacobs' Pharmacy to conduct these stores on the same principles that have won us our many friendships.

ELECTION ORDERED FOR SEPTEMBER 21

Successor to A. L. Curtis, Councilman From First Ward, to Be Chosen.

A city election has been ordered by the mayor for September 21, for the purpose of electing a councilman from the first ward to succeed Dr. A. L. Curtis, resigned.

The mayor has called the election because the people of the first ward do not wish to go any longer without that ward's full representation in council. Dr. Curtis resigned some time ago because he moved into the eighth ward.

So far there have been no candidates announced to fill Dr. Curtis' unexpired term. The election will be held all over the city, for, while councilmen are nominated in the primary by each ward, the city laws require a general election. The election will cost the city $400 or $500.

Joseph Merrow, traveling freight agent of the Rock Island here, returned to the city yesterday and confirmed the report that he has been made commercial agent of his road with headquarters at Louisville, Ky. The appointment is effective immediately, and Mr. Merrow leaves this morning to take up the work in his new field. Than Mr. Merrow, there are few more popular railroad men not only in the city, but in this section of the country. Since coming to Atlanta almost two years ago, he has made hosts of friends, who, while they dislike to have him leave, rejoice at the promotion which has come to him.

E. O. Pritchard, up to this time commercial agent of the Atlanta & West Point road, has been promoted to the office of division freight agent, with headquarters here, an office which has just been established. The change has already become effective, circulars to this effect having been issued on yesterday.

Mr. Pritchard came to Atlanta a number of years ago. Since that time he has filled the positions of soliciting agent, contracting agent, and commercial agent with such credit to himself that his raise to the position of division freight agent comes as a matter of little surprise to those acquainted with his record.

Fred Geisler, traveling passenger agent of the Seaboard at Memphis, passed through the city yesterday en route for Greensboro, Ga., where he will spend a portion of his vacation. After leaving his native town, he expects to make a short trip to the east.

J. E. Brown, assistant city passenger agent of the Seaboard, has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at Suwanee, Ga., where, according to his own story, he spent the major portion of his time hunting and fishing.

C. D. Wayne, assistant general passenger agent of the Seaboard here, left the city yesterday afternoon for a short trip to Norfolk. He will probably return Monday or Tuesday.

Six new engines, the largest in use on passenger trains in the south, have just been sent here for use on the Southern's fast trains between Atlanta and Cincinnati and Birmingham and New York. The new monster locomotives are 72 feet from pilot to rear coupler and are of the very latest model compound type.

A. J. Dutcher, general southern agent of the Union Pacific, and S. J. Brown, his chief clerk, will leave the city early this morning for Birmingham, where they have been transferred by the roads they represent.

The Traffic Club of Atlanta, an organization of the "outside" freight men of the city, will give a barbecue at the city pumping station on Monday. Invitations to a large number have been invited and the attendance is expected to be unusually large. This is the second entertainment of this kind the club has given since its organization several months ago, and it is believed that the one Monday will be even more enjoyable.

J. F. Hartsough, division freight agent of the Louisville & Nashville, returned to the city yesterday from a vacation trip to Long Island, N. Y. When he went away, Mr. Hartsough expected to be gone upwards of two weeks, but says when he thought of

"RIPPER" IS BUSY IN ATLANTA AGAIN

Another Negro Woman, the Ninth Victim, Found Dead.

After a lull of some six weeks the crime wave in the city rose again Thursday night and another negro woman, the ninth in less than a month, was murdered by some "black ripper," who cut her throat from ear to ear. She was not identified until late yesterday afternoon, when friends said that she was Mary Ann Duncan, of Pittman's alley, aged about 29 years.

Two negroes were arrested by detectives yesterday, but there is no direct evidence to hold either, and one of them is held for the investigation of certain alleged statements concerning his knowledge of the crime. Chief Lanford stated that they had a "line" of clues which look promising.

Many features of Thursday night's murder recall others of the past months. Each is marked by unusual brutality. Each has occurred in a remote and lonely spot, this last one in Blanton, west of Atlanta, between the Southern and the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad tracks.

The Duncan woman was minus her shoes, a freak circumstance that marked the murder of Sadie Holley on Atlanta avenue.

GREET POST CLERKS ON WAY TO "JACKS"

Brunswick Branch Plans Reception for Delegates to National Convention.

Brunswick, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—At a meeting of local branch No. 333, United National Association of Postoffice Clerks held yesterday, preparations were made for the entertainment of a number of the members of the association who will arrive here Sunday, en route to Jacksonville, where they go to attend the national convention to be held in that city September 4 to 7th inclusive. The matter is now in the hands of a committee and plans for the entertainment of the large crowd of eastern delegates who will come here on the Clyde steamer Seminole are being perfected.

Three members of the local branch of the association will accompany the party to Jacksonville, and be in attendance at the convention, which will be well attended and full of interest to members of the order. A number of important matters will come up for discussion.

Among the several questions to come up for debate and which have been agitated for some time by the organization, are thirty days' vacation and the forty-eight-hour week law. The pension and retirement bill are also to come up for discussion.

There are now more than 550 members in the state, and Georgia will be well represented at the national convention, as clerks from Atlanta, Savannah, Macon, Augusta, Brunswick, Valdosta and Waycross offices will be there to take part in the program. A great deal of good has been accomplished through the efforts of the association. Among the laws now in effect and secured through the efforts of the order are increase in pay, automatic promotion, Sunday closing law and the giving of compensatory time for Sunday work.

OPENS FALL SESSION SEPTEMBER 5th

THERE ARE ONLY 17 SCHOOLS OF THIS KIND IN AMERICA, CLASSED "A" BY UNITED STATES WAR DEPARTMENT. G. M. A. IS ONE OF THESE.

A friendly suggestion to parents: When you buy real estate, you inspect it in person and hire a lawyer to make an abstract; when you purchase an automobile, you test it and insist upon a guarantee; when you make ANY INVESTMENT, HOWEVER SMALL, you examine carefully the purchase.

All this to insure safety and avoid mistakes. Many parents are about to select their boys' schools for next year. Is it wise, just to your son, to do this without a personal visit to the school? This is the most vital and far-reaching investment a parent ever makes for his son—character, usefulness, destiny, depend upon it. Don't decide without A PERSONAL INSPECTION.

We cordially invite parents wishing the BEST for their sons to visit G. M. A. We hire no athletes and do not cut prices for any.

THREE ATHENIANS HELD FOR COURT CONTEMPT Alleged They Spirited Away Witness in Blind Tiger Case.

Athens, Ga., September 1.—(Special.) Three prominent young business men of this place will Saturday morning face serious charges in the mayor's court—W. B. Lindemann, Abe Link, and Emanuel Link. The charge against them is contempt of court.

The contempt consists in alleged forcing witnesses in a blind tiger case to leave the city, the county, and even the state.

H. Baker, or Beecher, a business man whose store faces the campus of the University of Georgia, was arrested and charged with selling liquor, the goods being confiscated. He went to trial and with him E. Link, also implicated. The trial was postponed for a few hours to allow the young man to get a lawyer. In the interim the witness for the city and state was spirited away.

It was shown that one of the trio named persuaded him to go with him to the Southern depot, board the train for Atlanta, and there a ticket was bought for him as far as Cedarstown and $2 given him to go on to Birmingham. He was traced and started back, walking most of the way to get to Athens and face a contempt charge himself. The tiger was convicted and fined $200 and the young men will be tried Saturday morning.

POLICE MADE EZZARD GET WOUND TREATED

With a 6-inch rash just above his ear, a smaller and deeper one in the fleshy part of his neck, and after the loss of much blood, J. T. Ezzard, a dairyman from Chamblee, Ga., last night refused to go to the hospital for treatment. Assistant Chief Jett ordered the patrol wagon and the prisoner went, willy-nilly.

Ezzard had a scrap on Marietta street about 9 o'clock, with a railroad man named Ed Russell. The trouble is said to have been over a pint of whisky, according to Officer Frey, who investigated the case. Ezzard was carried to the hospital, but refused to stay. Was later arrested and went under guard. No reason was given except that he wanted to pay for his own treatment.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH FOR LAWRENCEVILLE

Lawrenceville, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. L. M. Brand, of Lawrenceville, and Mrs. Dr. Danforth, of Pittman, have agreed to give $2,500 for the erection of a Christian church in Lawrenceville in honor of their brother, W. R. Hooper, who recently died, leaving his sisters a large sum of money.

Mrs. Brand and Mrs. Danforth plan to build a $5,000 church, and will start the subscription with half the amount. That denomination has no house of worship in Lawrenceville, the members using the Masonic building for their services. It is thought no difficulty will be met in raising the remainder of the amount necessary to erect a suitable building.

O'Dell's Triple in First Inning Breaks Their Backbone.

Burch, Howard and O'Dell Were Atlanta's Hitting Stars. Lindsay and Kilian Solved Paige's Delivery—Double Plays by the Crackers.

By Paul G. Treasurer.

Nashville, Tenn., September 1.—(Special.)—Assisted by superb pitching on the part of Paige, and assisted by almost flawless fielding, the Crackers' batsmen waded into Atlanta's batters today and whitewashed Nashville 8 to 2.

Paige only gave five hits, while the ex-Detroit man yielded twelve. O'Dell and Howard started the visitors, with Sykes in all-around playing close third. Kilian got two of Nashville's hits, while Wiseman pulled off a near three-bagger of Sykes from the dump top. Atlanta worked the squeeze play successfully several times, Paige performing.

Atlanta scored four in the first, mainly owing to O'Dell's three-bagger. O'Dell again singled in the third, scoring on Howard's double. Miller singled in the sixth, advancing by Burch's near hit, and sacrificed home by Zimmerman.

Howard started in the first, copping a screaming of Perry's. Nashville approached scoring in the sixth. Kilian singled; Bay walked; Perry sacrificed, but Smith flew out with two down.

With one man down in the eighth, Burch made a scratch hit, and Zimmerman drove a fifty drive over Smith, "Red" running back, nabbing and doubling Burch at first. At every stage of the game Paige outpointed Kilian. Although yielding five hits, in the pinches he was impregnable. On the other hand, Kilian handled himself poorly.

The battery of Paige and Wells remained intact throughout, while Nashville exchanged Seabough for Munson in the middle of the game. Neither could stop the Cracker base runners. Seabough plays and beat bunts were easy for the Crackers. Paige and Zimmerman keeping Seabough and Munson on the rough in this. In the fourth, Zimmerman soft-pedaled the ball to Kilian, and took a successful living slide to first.

Lindsay, who had been connected four of the five off Paige.

BY WAY OF LAGNIAPPE

A BIFF ON THE BEAN BEATS A BASE HIT

ONE HOUR OF LONG AGO WORTH A MONTH OF TODAY

BY SIDNEY ORMOND.

Ex-Sporting editor? Sure, Michael! It wasn't my fault, though. Nor was it through any lack of intelligence on the part of the managing editor.

Providence was responsible. Yellow fever was raging in New Orleans, and the sporting editor of The Times-Democrat was so inconsiderate as to take it.

Cholly Frank's Pel's were quarantined, but making a run-away race for the flag. The staff was depleted. Ergo, I was it. I will not worry you with the sad story of those somber days, twixt reporting yellow fever lectures in the day and figuring out averages at night. Suffice it, my tenure of office was sufficiently long to qualify me for one day's fling at Fuzzy's column, in the estimation of the city editor of The Constitution, if not in my own or that of the perspicacious public.

Following in Fuzzy's footsteps is very much like carrying a tallow candle in the rear of a Tammany Hall torch light procession. The effulgent glory of Fuzzy is too recent for any save a fool to attempt to imitate.

What I don't like about baseball of the present period would take the form of my natural life to tell. In this particular I am at least unique. In fact, about as rare as the dodo or the dimpled dinosaur. About ninety-nine men out of every one hundred you meet know more about the workings of Connie Mack's own mind than he does himself. This same ninety-nine can tell you all about what ought to have been done yesterday at Pittsburgh at a given moment, and they can foretell what will happen ten years hence in Chicago. If you don't believe this just take a fall out of the first casual fan you meet and then prepare to spend the balance of the afternoon hearing him pop off information.

It was my bad luck to see just two games on the local grounds this season, and if I retain my reason I will see no more until 1912.

Being an ex-sporting editor, and awfully ignorant of the present, it is more appropriate for me to write of the past.

It has occurred to me to write of the greatest play I ever saw pulled off.

No, it wasn't in the National, the American, the Western or the Southern leagues. It happened right here in Atlanta back in the eighties, and the game was played between tow-headed, freckled-faced boys on Jackson street. Many of these boys have risen to prominence in the affairs of the city and all of them are more or less well known. In those days winning a baseball game was the least of a team's troubles. Getting safely home from the grounds of the vanquished nine was the real object which every "man" on the visiting club had in mind from the moment the first ball was pitched. A fight followed a victory just as surely as darkness follows day or a bill collector the first of the month. As a general proposition the visiting team prepared for its departure long before the last man was out, and it was by no means ceremonious in the manner of its leave-taking. Frequently hats and coats and bats were left in the mad scramble to beat it.

We—the Washington Street Blues—who numbered such stars as "Johnny Bull" McBride, Walter Craig, Charley Franklin, Herman Spahr, Julian Howard and others, were opposing a team on which "Put" Broyles, John Kimball,

Will Glenn and "Hopple" Boynton were shining lights. We were about even matched and the game threatened to go into extra innings. The crowd was manifestly against us and one and all were conserving their wind for the long run to the south side—a run which knew no let or stay until the railroad tracks, where the Whitehall street viaduct now is, were reached. In the ninth inning we tied the score, and with two men out had a man on second and third. It was a trying moment. One more run and then the real run of the day! The crowd outnumbered us four to one. We were sure to get the whaling of our lives. Off to one side our gang huddled, each with his eyes cast lovingly on a rock.

"Crack" resounded the bat. The ball sailed over third base into a ravine below, good for three bases at least. Do you think for one moment that Julian Howard ran on that ball? Not he! Like a flash the man on third came in, and no one stopped to say goodbye. We were on our way, bare legs fanning the wind furiously. Pausing, we looked back to see "Hopple"

Boynton, the opposing pitcher, and the oldest of the nine, prone on his back with his hands hovering solicitously around. As soon as Julian had hit safely he fled vigorously on "Hopple" with his bat, figuring that would put an end to hostilities. It did. We walked home that day.

Eighteen months ago Jule Howard, who is now a resident of New York, paid Atlanta a visit for the first time in years. We were strolling down Whitehall street when we came to the place where "Hopple" worked. We sauntered in. It had been twenty-four years since they had met.

"Do you know Mr. Howard?" I asked Hopple. The light of recognition dawned on him like a flash.

"Yes, you're the guy hit me with that bat twenty-four years ago on Jackson street!"

And then we began fanning in earnest.

Them was the happy days.

WHICH IS BETTER?

TO BUY a house already built, paying a good profit to the one who built it, and has been living in it long enough to enjoy all its freshness, and now sell it to you when it needs repairs; or to build your own home, planned to suit you, enjoying its freshness, and make the profit yourself, if you should want to sell it, it is more sensible. If you want a "hand-made" house you can get it, for there are plenty of 'em for sale. But if you want a home, planned to meet your ideas of comfort, see us. That's our business. COTTON MARKET REVIEW

New York, September 1.—The leading features of interest in cotton during the week were wild fluctuations in the August delivery, on the one hand, and the government report on condition report, on the other. Prices have declined during the week 15 to 24 points on futures, and 40 points on spot. According to the government figures, the condition of the crop on August 25 was 73.1 per cent, against 89.1 per cent on July 24, 73.1 per cent a year ago and 63.7 two years ago. The ten-year average was 75.5 per cent.

The market was generally favorable for accounts and steady southern selling, as well as selling for foreign account, partly because of unsettled foreign politics. Besides these factors, mills have continued and, in many instances, increased the output of production perhaps as an answer to recent advice to planters to increase production to hold cotton for 13 cents. Recently the hot, dry and unfavorable conditions in Texas and Oklahoma were relieved by good rains and lower temperatures, as was also the case in the eastern cotton producing region, while excessive rains in the south central belt have been succeeded by clear weather. The receipts of new cotton are coming in larger daily, and the spotted condition of general trade leads many to believe that supplies of raw cotton will be ample for current requirements. Yet it must be remembered that the crop is not yet gathered; that it can be easily damaged by storms, insects, or by heavy rains, and that stocks are small and are controlled by powerful interests. Then, too, many unfavorable crop accounts have been received. The larger visible was due to the heavy receipts of new crop cotton in July and August. This movement, which amounted to 280,000 bales, was the largest on record.

In the spot department, prices fell in the early morning, but recovered against 12 1/2 last week and 14 1/2 this week last year. Sales on the spot amounted to 10,000 bales against 640 last week and 1,939 the week last year. Sales to arrive amounted to 675 bales against 650 last week and 528 this week last year.

It is claimed that the expected movement of new crop cotton will be delayed.

New Orleans Review.
New Orleans, September 1.—The net results in the cotton market this week were a decline of 10 to 20 points. The high prices were made on Friday and the low prices on Wednesday; at the highest the list was 7 to 11 points under last week's close; at the lowest it was 40 to 45 points under. The range was 19 to 24 points.

The main event of the week was the government's report on condition, published Friday, which was the last day of the week owing to the triple Labor day holiday. The report of 73.1 as the condition of the crop on August 25 was considerably lower than expected, but it had little effect, owing to the willingness of bears to load the market up with their offerings. It was followed by a rise of about a dollar a bale, which put the market to the highest level of the week.

This week was the last week of the old season. Complete statistics regarding the old crop were not issued, but the count of the commercial crop was 73.1 per cent, against 89.1 per cent a year ago. This is the first crop to start with the figure 12, although there have been crops in the 13,000,000. Few traders expected to see the crop go over 12,000,000 bales, the popular estimate was 11,000,000. The visible supply on the first day of the new season was larger than that of the old season, but it was generally expected to be so. It was put at $24.25 bales against $24.19 a year ago. A few months ago there were few people in the market who believed that the visible supply on the first day of September would be larger than the visible on the first of last September. The larger visible was due to the heavy receipts of new crop cotton in July and August. This movement, which amounted to 280,000 bales, was the largest on record.

MISS STOKES WINS BREEDERS' RACE

Readville, Mass., September 1.—Miss Stokes was a handy winner of the American Horse Breeders' futurity, valued at $7,000, of which $5,000 goes to the first horse at the grand circuit meeting at Readville today. It marked the opening of the meet, and having caused postponement since Tuesday. The track was heavy.

In the 2-year division all the breeders' futurity today the laurels went to Princess Todd, while Miss DeForest jogged home a winner in the pacing division of the futurity.

The 2:16 trot was the best race of the day. Eva Tanguay gained the first heat by a neck from Baron Aberdeen. The second heat looked like a dead heat between Peter Red and Eva Tanguay, but the judges saw Peter first and he had speed to spare in the two remaining heats.

The meeting closes tomorrow.

Special Remarks on Nashville Fans

Hooper Urges Petition to Take Away Baseball Charter.

Nashville, Tenn., September 1.—(Special.)—A surprise was sprung in the city tonight when it was announced by members of the Men's Christian Union that Governor Hooper and Attorney General Cates had requested District Attorney Anderson to sign the petition to the chancery court to take away Nashville's baseball charter.

This announcement from Counsel Watts & Hund, of the union, came into the fans' camp like a bombshell.

Hon. J. L. Watts gave out a long interview tonight, and in it he stated that after a two-hour conference yesterday, Attorney Anderson has asked for more time. This was granted by Mr. Watts last night.

The union counsel intended to have another conference with General Anderson, and that he thought, out of respect to the governor and attorney general, he would sign the petition to disfranchise the Nashville club for Sunday baseball playing.

On the other hand, General Anderson has stated as will not sign the original petition, and to add to the general tangle, the union and the club are much alarmed over a rumor that Evansville is leaving the Central League and is watching the squabble, ready to grab the franchise.

Waycross, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—If the movement that started originally at Waycross and has since gotten good support in several cities scheduled for berths in the proposed new league is given the backing it now seems to have at the October gathering in Brunswick, a new league will open for business next season.

Whether the league will include cities in Georgia and Florida or be a revised Georgia State League is problematical at this time. The cities most likely to take teams in the new league are Brunswick, Waycross, Dublin, Cordele, Americus and Valdosta. Thomasville, Fitzgerald and a few others places have some highly enthusiastic baseball fans, but whether they will undertake the support of a league team or not is uncertain.

Brunswick wants to revise the old Georgia State League, and enthusiasts of that city will entertain a baseball convention in October. If the plans suggested there prove feasible, and are deemed possible of success, the league will in all probability be perfected in time to begin next spring. A shorter season than is used in the South Atlantic League is advocated, as well as a later starting date.

Philadelphia, September 1.—(Special.)—The Philadelphia National League baseball club and previously with Pittsburgh was today sold to the city of Philadelphia. The team, now, formerly of the Boston Americans.

Brooklyn Leads in Drafting

Dodgers Capture Sixteen Players From the Minors.

Cincinnati, Ohio, September 1.—One hundred and ten minor league baseball players will become members of the major league clubs next season as the result of the drafting process before the national baseball commission here today.

Of this number sixty-three will enter the National, and forty-seven the American League.

The Brooklyn team of the Nationals, and Detroit and Cleveland clubs, of the American League, appear to have been the luckiest in the draw. Brooklyn got sixteen players, Cleveland eleven, and Detroit, Play lot, St. Louis and St. Paul, while Pittsburgh secured Cravath, provided a claim submitted by the Philadelphia Nationals that it had purchased Cravath is not allowed, in case it is not allowed the Pittsburgh club will obtain another Minneapolis player.

The number of players secured by each major league club follows: National League—Brooklyn, 16; New York, 5; Cincinnati, 10; Chicago, 6; St. Louis, 5; Philadelphia, 5; Pittsburgh, 9; Boston, 4.

American League—Cleveland, 11; Philadelphia, 6; Detroit, 9; Boston, 5; Washington, 5; Chicago, 4; St. Louis, 4; New York, 1.

Secretary Bruce, previous to the meeting stated he received checks from the American League for drafted players amounting to $75,000, and from the National League $100,000.

Before the meeting at which the drafts were opened the commission decided to lay the matter of the Eastern League over for the time being.

There were no new developments today in the American Association squabble.

Two Players Drafted. From Birmingham; Kent by Chicago and Cleveland Americans; Bogson and Brooklyn Nationals; Elliott, by St. Louis and Philadelphia Nationals. By lot it was decided Kent was subject to draft.

Two players were drafted from New Orleans, Nagby by Philadelphia and Cleveland Americans; Kirke, by Chicago Americans, Boston, Chicago and Brooklyn Nationals. By lot it was decided that Kirke was subject to draft.

Two players were drafted from Memphis, Crandall by the Chicago Americans, Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Brooklyn Nationals; Dickinson, by Boston Nationals. By lot it was decided Dickinson was subject to draft.
